LODGE ROOM NOTES

Happenings in the lodge rooms last night.

I. O. O. F.

Arcanum lodge, I. O. O. F., by accepting the report of the special committee appointed to select new meeting rooms for the English speaking lodges of the order in this city, have settled on the Hincks & Johnson building at Broad and Cannon streets. The other lodges of the order in this city having accepted are Adolphian, Samuel H. Harris and Pequotnack lodges. At the meeting two candidates were initiated.

Lessing lodge, I. O. O. F., decided upon a new idea, that of organizing a degree team to carry on the work in English instead of German, in which language it has always been carried.

K. OF P.

Joseph Dowdall lodge, K. of P., worked the rank of Page last night on one candidate. Next Friday evening the rank of Esquire will be conferred. The Sick Benefit Association of Joseph Dowdall lodge, K. of P., held its annual meeting last evening. The following were elected directors: G. H. Josselyn, Joel Griffin, F. L. Chapman, E. H. Liefeld, C. Judson, L. B. Budington and E. W. Pulver. The directors then met and elected the following officers for the ensuing year: President, G. H. Josselyn; vice president, Joel Griffin; secretary and treasurer, F. W. Pulver. The annual reports showed the association to be in a healthy condition.

F. OF A.

Two new members were initiated and two applications received at the meeting of Court Marina, F. of A. Plans were made for holding a class initiation on April 2 and also to hold an elaborate social on the occasion of their next meeting, Feb. 19.

W. O. W.

Ten members were obligated and 14 applications received at the meeting of Live Oak Camp, W. O. W. Favorable reports were read regarding the third annual ball to be given by this camp at an early date. A. D. Rose, John Ford, and E. L. Lewis were elected delegates to the meeting of the head camp to be held in Syracuse, N. Y., this April.

O. OF A.

At a meeting of Morris Court, Order of Amaranth, held Wednesday evening, two new members were admitted and two applications received. The following officers were elected: President, Mrs. Emma A. Curley; R. P. James, Mrs. Selma Wallis; Mar in West, Mrs. Sophie Kirsch; chaplain, Mrs. Lena Foote; organist, Miss Lella Nichols; Sent, J. C. Curley.

Living Spring Division, No. 22, S. of Y., will hold an open meeting, Monday evening, Feb. 8th, at their hall, 69 South Street. All are welcome.

BRITISH CABINET IS DEADLOCKED
OVER DREADNAUGHTS

(Special from United Press.)

London, Feb. 6.—The question of whether England shall have six new Dreadnaught type battleships, costing $33,000,000 has resulted in a fierce fight in the British cabinet which is deadlocked to-day on the proposition. The six ship advocates are led by Lord Asquith and Sir Edward Grey, secretary of state for foreign affairs, while David Lloyd George, Winston Churchill and the Right Honorable Augustine Birrell head the faction which is opposed to the naval construction. Asquith has sought to rally support to the six-ship plan by including America as one of the possible foes of England but this looked upon as not only ridiculous but most improbable.

FAMOUS PREACHER DEAD.

(Special from United Press.) Chester, Pa., Feb. 6.—Rev. Dr. Henry Griggs Weston, the venerable president of the Crozier Theological Seminary, died to-day following a week's illness. Dr. Weston was born in Lynn, Mass., in 1829. He entered Brown University when 15 years old and took a course at Newton Institute.

Accepting a position in the west, Dr. Weston was known as "the boy preacher." He attracted attention and was called to New York, his church afterwards merging with the Madison Avenue church. Later he aided in the organization of the Crozier school.

CHIEF COUNSEL WITHDRAWS.

Edinburgh, Feb. 6.—Mrs. Clara Elizabeth Stirling's counter divorce petition received a hard blow in the withdrawal from the case of Lord Northcote Shaw, Mrs. Stirling's counsel. Shaw gave as his reason for withdrawing his appointment to a judicial position as Lord Advocate of Scotland. He is now entering Brown University when 15 years old and took a course at Newton Institute.

DEATHS AND FUNERALS.

Charles Heinrich, better known as "Red Charlie" and one of the best known German characters of the city died at the insane retreat at Middletown yesterday afternoon, to which place he was removed from the Lakeview home in this city Thursday. The deceased has for years been employed with Alois Schwab, the late Andrew Schneider and other marksmen.

Fitzpatrick, 34, daffy; Margaret O'Connor, 34, puff box; Kackorusky, 33, three silk ties. After the prizes were given out to the lucky winners, dancing was again enjoyed lasting till midnight. The evening of the series will be held Lincoln night, Feb. 12. The score cards of all the contestants have been retained, and will be counted in as part of the scores for the series. Grand prizes of 24 pieces silver set, and a ton of coal have been offered.

Alpha Chapter, Kappa Phi Sorority celebrated its thirtieth annual banquet last night in the north banquet room of the Stratfield from eight to ten o'clock. Miss Lucy Stebbins was the toastmaster, and Mrs. William T. Rockwell and Mrs. William Naramore acted as the patronesses. The committee in charge included the Misses Winfield Brown, Augusta Kimber and Elizabeth Curtis, while Misses B. Bartram, maize; Miss Grace Beardsley; white; Miss Lillian Wheeler, blue; Miss Bessie Marigold, coral; Miss Fannie Barrows, white; Mrs. S. M. Middlebrook, white satin; Mrs. T. M. McKee (Danbury), white satin; Mrs. Harry Ward, white satin; Mrs. Harry Kallgren, white satin; Mrs. Florence Cate, white; Mrs. Rebecca Britton, white and pink; Miss Rebecca Britton, white; Mrs. Naramore, London smoke; Mrs. Augusta Kimber, green; Mrs. Bessie Bishop, blue; Miss Ethel Bessie Wortman, pink; Miss Ethel Lewis, ecru; Miss Louise Jones, blue; Miss Ethel Buchanan, pink.

The whist of Thursday evening at the Grange hall was a great success. The weather conditions were most favorable, a moderate temperature, good sleighing and an ideal moonlight evening combined with the fact of its being a Grange affair brought the whist to a large number of participants. The game was enjoyed for two hours when the honors were announced as follows: 1st ladies, Mrs. S. C. Glover, cut glass bon-bon dish; 2nd gentlemen, John C. Beers, silver pickle fork; 2d ladies, Mrs. Wm. A. Canfield, handsome jewel case with coin; 3d gentlemen, Frederick B. Lake, fancy cup and saucer; 4th ladies, Mrs. Wallace N. Mitchell, 6 pound fruit cake, made by Mrs. Alice Wildman; 3d gentlemen, Rodney Shepherd, meat chopper; 4th ladies, Mrs. Charles Glover, china cracker jar; 4th gentlemen, Walter Pinch, box cigars; 5th ladies, Miss Cornelia Morehouse, box cigars; 5th gentlemen, James B. Nichols, silver berry spoon; 6th ladies, Mrs. Frederick Briggs, dozen oranges; 6th gentlemen, Ell Beers, box cigars; 7th ladies, Mrs. Frederick B. Lake, book; 7th gentlemen, Stanley Blackman, pair gloves; 8th ladies, Mrs. Daniel V. Daniels, boo. The ladies' consolation was taken by Mrs. Alice Wildman and was a fancy china match safe with the "Heavenly Twins." Past Master Wallace N. Mitchell secured the gentlemen's consolation which was the source of much amusement when found to be a large doll. The young benefit was warmly congratulated on all sides. A most delightful evening was spent by all the company besides the pleasure of the game. Refreshments of home made cake and punch were served throughout the evening.

Miss Frances Bullard, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Stanley H. Bullard, of Mount Pleasant, enjoyed the celebration of her first birthday at her home, Friday. A dainty nature of the occasion was a very pretty birthday cake with one candle set in the center of a rosebud, while around this were set 12 tiny candles in corresponding rosebuds denoting the twelve months of the year. A pleasant, happy day was enjoyed and the young miss did the honors as well as could be expected considering it to be the first occasion. Miss Bullard was very pleasantly remembered with many gifts from her numerous friends.

MASTER PAINTERS MEET

Recommendation That Government Label All Canned Paints.

The mid-winter meeting of the Connecticut Master Painters' association was held at the Stratfield yesterday followed by a dinner last evening in the grill room. Yesterday was the first time the association has ever met in Bridgeport. The majority of those present were out of town master painters, including John Vanscoyde of Newark, N. J., president of the Master Painters' association of the United States and Canada, and W. H. Baxter, president of the state organization. About 45 in all were present, the local ones being Joseph P. Coughlin, Henry D. Murphy, John L. Somers, Samuel Dawe, Nell H. Muirhead, Charles F. Lindholm, George Lynch, and Carl F. Norell. At the dinner President Vanscoyde made a speech on the matter of apprentices, the general system now in vogue, and the possibility of relying on the trade schools for talent. He showed the defects of the present system of turning out journeymen and how it could be remedied. The speaker also said that the government ought to come to the help of the painters and see that each can of paint was labeled as drugs and medicine are now under the pure food laws. Then the output of adulterated paints would be rectified. A speaker of a similar nature was made by President Baxter of Hartford and a number of others. Henry D. Murphy of this city was chosen as a delegate to the International convention of Master Painters that sits at Baltimore, Feb. 23.

Stomach Gases
and Torpid Livers

Give Way Before the Peculiar Purifying Power of Stuart's Charcoal Lozenges.

A Trial Package Sent Free.

The four gases of the stomach and the torpid action of the liver are easy victims for overeating and indigestion. This great natural cleaner and absorbent will most certainly be relieved by a system afflicted with gaseous or sluggish tendencies. Charcoal has long been known as a great absorbent of gas. A painful of charcoal will positively purify a room filled with foul odors and decay. Its absorbing action is so hundred times greater than its own volume. The ancients gave charcoal for many human ills successfully. The North American Indians used it for snake bite, poison from eating wild herbs and cured what they called "stomach bad medicine" with it. Willow charcoal seems to be the best product for human use, and no doubt the peculiar curative property of the willow is represented in a chemical quality in its charcoal.

The charcoal lozenges are a pure willow and sweet honey blended by tremendous power and compression into a very palatable lozenge. Two or three lozenges eaten after meals will prevent the action of digestion from producing noxious gases. They will vivify a lazy liver and aid every organ which is most likely to be overcome through its contact with impurities. They cleanse the stomach and intestines, bring purity and sweetness out of fermentation and decay and aid digestion by allaying gas. They will aid you in the morning without that terrible nauseating bad breath which destroys appetite and renders one miserable.

All druggists sell Stuart's Charcoal Lozenges, price twenty-five cents, or send us your name and address and we will send you a trial package by mail free. Address E. A. Stuart Co., 200 Stuart Bldg., Marshall, Mich.

THE MADAME MOUNTFORD LECTURES

At the South Congregational church, Broad and Gilbert streets, many of the other churches co-operating, a series of great lectures on "The Bible and the Holy Land" will be given by the famous lecturer, Madame Von Finkelstein Mountford, "The Holy Land Messenger." Madame Mountford is from Jerusalem, Palestine. The series will begin to-morrow evening and continue nightly until Feb. 12. The subjects are as follows: Sunday night, Feb. 7th, "The Cross"; Monday night, Feb. 8th, "The King King of the Shepherds"; Tuesday, Wednesday, and Thursday nights, Feb. 9th, 10th and 11th, "The Life of the Christ." And on Friday night, Feb. 12th, "The Messiah and the Messenger," a special lecture, vividly illustrated. A silver collection will be taken at each lecture, to defray expense. So great has been the response to the series of lectures that these lectures have been given, that it has been necessary to come early to get a seat.

Mrs. Wm. J. Driscoll enjoyed a visit with Bridgeport friends, Friday. The children and teacher, Miss Catherine Murphy, of Middle District school, enjoyed a sleigh ride Friday afternoon through the kindness of Patrick H. Gannon. The music of their voices could be heard as they passed up Newtown street, seemingly very happy, each waving a flag and their faces beaming with smiles.

Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Hawley of Hawleyville, were most pleasantly surprised Wednesday evening, on the occasion of their 40th wedding anniversary. Members of the family had made all arrangements and a delightful social evening was enjoyed by guests being present to the number of about 30. A fine supper was served and the couple were the recipients of many gifts. Guests present from out of town were Mrs. Homer Keldwin, Mr. and Mrs. Charles D. F. J. Naramore and Mrs. Hubert Smith were in town Friday. Mr. Smith will reopen the Naramore house on account of the recent illness of his daughter. Her many friends will be glad to know of her return.

CLOSE VOTE

ON PROHIBITION

Only Four Votes Lacking in Texas House to Submit Amendment.

Austin, Tex., Feb. 6.—The House yesterday refused to vote of 81 yeas to 45 nays to submit the proposed constitutional amendment providing for State wide prohibition to a vote of the people.

The votes were lacking owing to abstentions to make up the necessary two-thirds to carry the proposition. The submissionists have enough votes to reconsider and bring the measure before the House whenever they see fit, and this may be done later in the session. The Senate will vote on the measure next week.

QUALTROUGH IS SUSPENDED AND LOSES TEN NUMBERS

Captain of Battleship Georgia Found Guilty of Conduct Unbecoming an Officer By Court Martial at Gibraltar.

(Special from United Press.) Gibraltar, Feb. 6.—Finding Captain Edward Qualtrough of the battleship Georgia guilty of conduct unbecoming an officer of the navy, the court-martial composed of officers of the American fleet to-day announced its findings and inflicts a penalty of six months suspension from duty and loss of 10 numbers in rank. The verdict was a surprise not only to the men of the fleet but to the public in general. The charges against Captain Qualtrough followed a reception at Tangiers by the American Minister, Mr. Gummere, which was attended by Rear Admiral Wainwright and subordinates. The defense was that the night before the reception he had had but four hours sleep owing to duty, also that he was in ill-health. He admitted having taken three glasses of wine at the Gummere dinner but his appearance was due to ill-health. Surgeons of the Georgia were witnesses as to Captain Qualtrough's ill-health and his explanation was corroborated by several other witnesses from the Georgia. Rear Admiral Sperry approved the court's findings and cabled the State Department. If the sentence had been dismissal the findings would have gone to the President for approval but merely being suspension and loss of numbers, the Admiral is the reviewing authority. The loss of ten numbers means that ten officers, now below Qualtrough in rank, will be eligible to promotion to a Rear-Admiralship ahead of him. The Georgia is now under command of Lieutenant Commander George W. Klein who assumed command when Qualtrough was relieved.

Washington, Feb. 6.—Official confirmation of the verdict and guilty in the case of Captain Qualtrough in the command of Lieutenant Commander George W. Klein who assumed command when Qualtrough was relieved.

Washington, Feb. 6.—Official confirmation of the verdict and guilty in the case of Captain Qualtrough in the command of Lieutenant Commander George W. Klein who assumed command when Qualtrough was relieved.

Selling "Carlyle."

Here is Whistler's story of how he sold his famous picture of Carlyle to the Glasgow corporation:

I received them, well, you know, charmingly of course, and one who spoke for the rest asked me if I did not think I was putting a large price on the picture—1,000 guineas—and I said, "Yes, perhaps, if you will have it so."

And he said that it seemed to the council excessive. "Why, the figure was not even life size." And I agreed.

"But, you know," I said, "few men are life size." And that was all. It was an official occasion, and I respected it. Then they asked me to think over the matter until the next day, and they would come again. And they came. And they said, "Have you thought of the thousand guineas and what we said about it, Mr. Whistler?"

And I said, "Why, gentlemen, why—well, you know, how could I think of anything but the pleasure of seeing you again?"

And naturally, being gentlemen, they understood, and they gave me a check for the thousand guineas.

The Southern Art of Conversation. The north may think it knows something of conversation, but the north, as compared with the south, may be said never to have enjoyed a conversation. About the village courtesies, within the hospitable doors of some central store, in the office of the local daily or weekly paper or, above all, in the leisurely and genial intercourse around the fireside or on the inviting porch in summer of friend with friends there will be heard a conversation which in wit, in the charm and force of its illustrations and in the directness and freedom of its criticism is not surpassed in American life today.

It is the product of leisure, of a world without haste, without ruthless preoccupations, without those resources of expression and interest which belong to the crowded and overworked existence of the commercial city. It is, moreover, part of the tradition of the cavalier. It is part of the genius of climate and soil and social habit.—E. G. Murphy in "The Present South."

Sour Milk Cow.

The woman was new to the country, and her host took great pains to explain to her whatever she didn't understand about the farm. He had little regard for the truth, this farmer; he delighted to test her gullibility to the utmost.

The cows seemed to interest her more than any other domestic animal. One of the cows had lost her tail somehow, and this fact led the woman to ask why it was.

"That's the sour milk cow," the farmer explained, "with a straight face. We always cut the tail off our cow in the herd so as to get sour milk fresh every day."

The woman looked her doubt. "It's perfectly true," the farmer insisted. "You see, when the cow's tail is gone the sun shines continually on the cow's udder, and the constant heat sours the milk."

But the woman still doubted.—New York Sun.

Succeeded. "No, sir," said the stern parent, "I cannot give my consent—at least not now. Before I will think of confiding my daughter to your care you must succeed in doing something."

"Oh, I've done that. I succeeded in kissing her last night after she had assured me that I never could until you had given your approval."

The Roller.

"A rolling stone gathers no moss," remarked the proverb dispenser. "And, like the human high roller," rejoined the thoughtful thinker, "it also gravitates downhill."—Chicago News.

In the march of life don't heed the order "right about" when you know you are about right.—Holmes.

BOMB EXPLOSION
SHAKES TENEMENT

Drives a Dozen Scarlet Fever Patients into the Streets.

(Special from United Press.) New York, Feb. 6.—A bomb explosion, which drove a score of scarlet fever patients into the street, shook a five story tenement in East 38th street early to-day. One man whose little girl had died during the night carried the body, wrapped in a blanket to the street.

The bomb was placed for the grocery of Joseph Pavlovol on the ground floor. A policeman saw the spattering fuse and started to extinguish it. It flashed up and as the policeman backed away the bomb exploded. The police are of the opinion that the explosion was a Black Hand demonstration against Pavlovol although he denies that he ever received any threats. Exposure has had a serious effect on many of the sick persons who were driven from the house.

BATTLESHIP FLEET
SAILS FOR HOME

Start on Last Leg of Around the World Voyage from Gibraltar Today.

(Special from United Press.) Gibraltar, Feb. 6.—With a booming farewell from the guns of a dozen foreign ships the American fleet sailed for home to-day. It has been "on the way home" ever since September but as long as there were intervening stops and ports of call the sailors hardly considered themselves homeward bound. The next land they see will be their own soil.

The ships weighed anchor at 9 o'clock and had steam up for several hours before this time. The trip will probably be made at a reduced speed of ten knots as there is no occasion for hurry.

The vessels will not raise their homeward bound pennants until they enter the Virginia Capes. The governor's "Olympic" in honor of the fleet was the most enjoyable feature of the stay here.

ADVANTAGES AND DISADVANTAGES OF LAW PROFESSION

(Special from United Press.)

New Haven, Feb. 6.—Discouraging any attempt to gain wealth by adopting a professional career and stating that the saying that a lawyer works hard, lives well and dies poor is in the main correct, Austin B. Fletcher one of New York's most prominent lawyers in the article in the Yale News, Feb. 6, indicates the advantages and disadvantages of the profession of law. The article in part follows:

"The lawyer's opportunities for attaining success are probably as great as they ever were, but they demand greater ability and better preparation. Every young man therefore, who intends to follow the law as a profession should lay the broadest possible foundation; physically, because his work at times will demand the greatest endurance; morally, because there is no profession offering so many pitfalls; intellectually, because competition is so severe.

"Not more than five per cent. of those admitted to the bar in New York City attain genuine success. The other ninety-five per cent. are rarely heard from and many abandon the profession for a business career. The successful lawyer must know the law and its application and must have a fine creative business instinct."
